Test & Treat Pets for Mold

1. Find out if your pet has mold

Find out if your pet is contaminated by mold with a tap test— Refer to Figure: How-To Tap Test. Use the same method to test the pet's bed, favorite couch, chew toy, etc. Keep extra plates in the refrigerator until ready to test again after treatments. After tap testing, replace the lid, place a piece of tape on each side of the plate, label the bottom (date, pet's name), wrap in tinfoil, and put in a warm spot for 5-7 days. If the plate(s) shows mold growth, you can send it to ImmunoLytics for a comprehensive Lab Analysis. Lab fees are $33 for each plate.

2. Treat and clean your pet

Bathe your pet with Remedy Pet Shampoo twice the first month and then at at least once a month thereafter. Lightly mist your pet with Remedy Mold Treatment Spray up to twice a day preferably after your pet comes in from being outside.

3. Treat your pet's things

Use Remedy Laundry Liquid Detergent to wash the pet's bed allowing it to soak for one hour prior to completing the wash cycle. Maintain the pet's sleeping and resting areas daily by misting with the Remedy Mold Treatment Spray.

4. Detox your pet

Add 1 to 5 drops (depending on what your dog is willing to drink) of Agrumax into 1 gallon of drinking water (use filtered or bottled water – chlorinated water may cause an increase in mold and yeast in your pet). Use this mixture to fill your pet's water bowl.

5. Retest with extra plates

Once you have shampooed your pet twice, tap test your pet again to check results. Test periodically as desired.

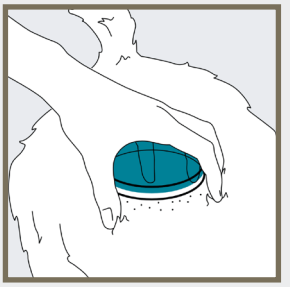
Wash & dry your hands thoroughly prior to testing.



Hold the plate so the yellow agar is facing towards the object or pet. Tap the object 4 times (The yellow agar should not touch the object). This will force the mold spores into the air and onto the plate.
